

Utterly Gutterly

With Julie Brown,
director of Sheffield's
Seamless Gutter Company

INTRODUCING our new roofing division

We are famous for our super-strength aluminium seamless guttering. Now we have launched a specialist roofing division led by Glen Brown, who has 18 years' experience as a roofer. Our customer Bob Duce let us replace his roof and guttering at the same time.

When you're in the gutter there's only one way to go - up onto the roof. Which is what we've done with the establishment of our specialist roofing division.

It had to happen. As we built an unrivalled reputation for fitting our revolutionary aluminium seamless guttering we regularly worked for customers who told us they needed a new roof.

It makes sense to fit guttering and a roof at the same time, using the same company if possible: us!

That's what Bob Duce did. He called us in on the recommendation of someone we'd done work for. Bob is an electrician who has bought a two-bedroomed semi in Bents Green to extend, refurbish and turn into a four-bedroomed property. He organised the building work, and asked us to replace the roof and guttering.

He says: "I had a rough idea what the cost would be, and because I was happy with the Seamless quote I didn't approach other companies."

We re-roofed the original building and the extension in Eternit slates, and installed two Velux windows for the attic conversion.

Aluminium seamless guttering and new downpipes were then installed. The work was completed on schedule in ten days.

Aluminium guttering is five inches wide as opposed to the four inches of plastic guttering, and can therefore contain more rainwater. It is available in a range of pre-painted colours, and the only maintenance they need is the occasional clear-out of leaves.

Our gutters are fitted in long, continuous runs so there is no need to worry about drips from faulty joints. Internal fixing brackets are used because they are strong and visually appealing. They will not leak, crack or fade like wood or plastic alternatives.

Says Bob "It made sense to use one firm for both the guttering and the roof. Seamless were very punctual and reliable, which is unusual these days. I am very happy with the finished product and will be using them again on future projects."

Brian Higgott, of Totley (left), is pictured with Glen, of the Seamless Gutter Company. Says Brian: "I am very happy with the work that the Seamless Gutter Company have done. My gutter was old and leaking onto walls. I wanted the problem solved because I knew the longer I left it the more serious the damp would become.

"My new guttering is trouble-free, leak-free and looks great. I didn't bother getting any other quotes for the work because Glen and the Seamless Gutter Company are very trustworthy."

Philippa Ashe (right), lives in Handsworth. She says:

"I obtained quotes for plastic guttering, but then I heard about aluminium - and liked the idea of it being seamless because the leaks in my old guttering had come from where the wood had been joined.

"I was surprised the the quote for seamless aluminium guttering was about the same as for plastic.

"The Seamless Gutter Company were fantastic: efficient, very clean and tidy. I just went to work and left them to it. When I returned everything was finished."

The Seamless Gutter Company is a family business, says director Julie Gilberthorpe. My husband Glen leads our installation team. He has over 15 years' experience fitting guttering. Our continuous aluminium gutter system is approved by the British Board of Agrément, and has a life expectancy of at least 30 years. Please call us for a no-obligation quotation and product demonstration.
